You Deserve The Best Body Wash!

Whether you want a lather luxurious enough to turn your shower stall into a super spa or a scent so intoxicating you'll feel as confident as a beauty queen, we have the body washes sure to buoy your mood and chase stress right down the drain!

If you want:

A SWEETLY SCENTED ENERGIZER:

Victoria's Secret Vanilla Lace

Reigning Miss America Kirsten Haglund says this fragrant body wash is her beauty-routine must. "I travel about 20,000 miles a month, and always have to be photo-ready," she says. "So I shower a lot more than usual, and I love my loofah." Especially with this wash on it! "It's revitalizing, but not overpowering. I tend to get sick of fragrances quickly—but I never get sick of this; it's the first body wash I ever tried, and I always come back to it!"

AN ANTI-AGING MIRACLE:

Olay Spa Exfoliating Ribbons

Celebrity dermatologist Judith Hellman, M.D., says this body wash turns your shower into the fountain of youth! "It contains 'ribbons' of seaweed extract, which are thought to increase the skin's elasticity—the very thing that breaks down with age," says Dr. Hellman. So it basically stalls the aging process, and that's not all: "It's nice to use because it has little beads you can actually see that gently exfoliate the skin, leaving it renewed and soft."

A SPA-WORTHY SPLURGE:

Aetó Botanica Spa Body Shampoo

"This all-natural body wash is my new addiction," proclaims Kim Kelder, lead aesthetician at the world-renowned Miraval Life in Balance Resort in Tucson, AZ. "It's intoxicating; cranberry, myrrh and passion flower soothe stress and also soften the skin, while the bamboo extract refreshes it. It makes me feel amazing." And, as it turns out, a little heaven goes a long way. "It's a big 8.5-oz. bottle. I savor it, so it lasts forever."

A GERM- AND ODOR-FIGHTER:

Dial Antibacterial Body Wash in Lavender and Twilight Jasmine

Executive Dawn Wilcox has two reasons for loving this antibacterial wash: "I run several times a week, so I need something strong on odor; plus, my doctor recommended I use an antibacterial wash after I got an infection. I went up and down the aisle sniffing each one, thinking, 'No way is an antibacterial body wash going to smell good,' until I found this one," she says. "I love Dial so much I keep spares now. I don't feel clean unless I use it!"

A MOISTURIZING SUDSER:

Philosophy Strawberry Milkshake Body Wash

"I got my first bottle as a gift—and I've been sold ever since," says PR executive Nicole Gagnon of this multitasking "milkshake" that also acts as a bubble bath and shampoo! The best part? "It's ultra-moisturizing, which I love. I have dry skin in the winter, but this wash leaves my skin so soft, I don't even need extra lotion after my shower," she says. "A lot of moisturizing body washes leave a residue behind, but this makes me feel great without feeling greasy."
